TEDxPittsburgh 2024 - Weaving Futures
Thursday, September 12; CCAC Allegheny Campus

Local luminaries share their thoughts and experiences in an interactive forum

Networking event included

PITTSBURGH, PA (August 6,, 2024) - TEDxPittsburgh, the TED-licensed and independently organized chapter established in 2014, is set to take the stage at the Foerster Center on CCAC's Allegheny Campus, Northside, on Thursday September 12, from 6-9 pm. Mirroring the nationally acclaimed TED Talks style, the event is poised to be an engaging evening filled with inspiring talks and an original performance by locally connected leaders and innovators sharing ideas across fields like STEM education, sustainability, and personal growth.

"This year's TEDxPittsburgh speakers are sharing ideas that not only affect the future of our region but have the ability to impact communities around the world. The ideas are tangible, the success is visible and how an audience can be inspired at a TEDx event is unpredictable in the best of ways," said Chris Daley, co-organizer.

Lineup and Topics

- Frzy, Emmy-Award Winning Rapper - delivering a special performance and talk on freestyle as an art of creative expression.
- Sabrina Saunders Mosby, President and CEO of Vibrant Pittsburgh - sharing her perspective on what it means to evolve as a leader and the systems that empower them.
- Vivien Luk, Executive Director of WORK - sharing ideas on designing systems for sustainability
- Ronna Davis Moore, Founder of Za'Kiyah House will share her experiences
- Dr. Andre Samuel, President and Founder of The Citizen Science Lab will share a talk centered on how and why to invest in youth science education.

"Our TEDxPittsburgh community is known for bringing people together - on the stage and in the audience - join us on September 12th to experience it in person. Over 10,000 people have attended our event over the years and millions more have watched online," added Daley. This year's event will also feature an interactive Innovation Corridor where attendees can network with one another and connect with non-profits and inventors before and after the talks.

Tickets are available for $45 and can be purchased online here:

About TEDxPittsburgh

TEDxPittsburgh is a volunteer-led platform for sharing ideas that affect our city, region, and world. Using the TED format, and licensed by TED, TEDxPittsburgh seeks to dig deeper on issues that matter locally and that when shared, can be spread across the world to drive progress. Innovators in technology, entertainment, and design come together at our conferences to share ideas worth spreading. TEDxPittsburgh is run by IdeasPGH, a not-for-profit organization. Past talks available on ted.com and tedxpittsburgh.org. Contact license holder: Chris Daley, chris@tedxpittsburgh.org
